1. Your booking

These terms apply to the Sacred Egypt Pilgrimage described in your booking information.

Your booking becomes binding when we accept it in writing and confirm receipt of the required deposit. Before booking, please read these terms, the itinerary, the included services and the practical travel information carefully.

Any mandatory consumer or package-travel rights remain unaffected by these terms.

2. Price & payment

The journey price is €1,666 per person. A deposit of €833 per person is payable upon booking. The remaining €833 is due by August 6th, 2027.

Your booking confirmation will state the total price, applicable taxes and any agreed additional charges. No optional services will be charged without your agreement.

If a payment is overdue, we will contact you and provide a reasonable deadline to pay before taking further action. Any cancellation and associated charges will remain subject to applicable law.

3. What is included

Your booking includes only the services expressly listed in the final booking description:

- [Dahabiya accommodation: number of nights and cabin arrangements]
- [Meals and beverages]
- [Transfers, with collection and drop-off locations]
- [Excursions, guides and entrance fees]
- [Rituals, sound, embodiment and other facilitated sessions]
- [Other included services]

Unless expressly included, the price excludes international and domestic flights, visas, insurance, personal expenses, gratuities and additional accommodation.

Optional stays in Aswan or Cairo, and any extra days before or after the pilgrimage, require a separate written agreement specifying their price, services and responsible provider.

4. Travel documents & arrival

You are responsible for obtaining the passport, visa and other documents required for your nationality and travel arrangements. We will provide the general passport, visa and health-formality information required of us before booking.

Please arrive at our meeting point in time. Allow sufficient time for flight delays and immigration procedures.

Contact us promptly if your arrival is delayed. Additional arrangements may incur reasonable costs, unless the delay falls within our responsibility or applicable law provides otherwise.

5. Cancellation by you

You may cancel your booking before departure by emailing info@lightfullyou.com.

Subject to mandatory refund rights under applicable law, your deposit is non-refundable unless your place is taken by another participant and their booking and payment are confirmed. If your place is filled, we will refund your deposit.

Any cancellation charge will remain subject to applicable legal limits, including consideration of costs saved and income received from reselling your place.

This policy does not affect your statutory right to cancel without a fee or receive a refund where required by law, including qualifying unavoidable and extraordinary circumstances significantly affecting the journey or transport to the destination.

6. Transferring your booking

You may request to transfer your booking to another person who meets the journey's participation requirements.

Please notify us as early as possible. Transfers will be handled in accordance with applicable law. Any transfer charge will be limited to reasonable, actual costs, and we will provide evidence of those costs.

7. Changes or cancellation by the organiser

Minor changes may be necessary because of sailing conditions, site access, weather or local operational requirements. We will communicate changes clearly and preserve the agreed character and standard of the journey.

Significant changes will be handled in accordance with applicable law, including any right to accept the change or cancel with a refund.

The minimum group size is 10 participants. Any right to cancel because that number is not reached, and the deadline for notifying you, will be stated in the booking information and comply with applicable law.

If we cancel, refunds and any additional entitlements will be handled under applicable law. A credit or alternative journey will only replace a refund with your agreement.

8. Health, accessibility & insurance

The journey may involve stairs, uneven ground, heat, boat access and walking. Please contact us before booking to discuss accessibility needs or whether the itinerary is suitable for you.

Tell us about relevant dietary requirements and support needs so we can discuss available arrangements. We cannot guarantee that every request can be accommodated; agreed arrangements will be confirmed in writing.

We strongly recommend insurance covering medical treatment, emergency evacuation, repatriation, cancellation and the activities you intend to join. Check your policy's exclusions carefully.

9. Spiritual practices & consent

This pilgrimage offers spiritual exploration, ritual, sound and embodiment practices. It does not provide medical treatment, psychotherapy or a guaranteed healing outcome.

All facilitated practices are voluntary. You may decline an activity, pause or withdraw your consent at any time. Touch requires your explicit consent.

Please respect your physical and emotional limits and seek qualified professional advice where needed. Choosing not to attend an available session does not, by itself, create an entitlement to a refund.

10. Respectful participation

We ask everyone to respect personal boundaries, confidentiality, Egyptian laws, local customs and instructions from the crew and guides.

Harassment, violence or behaviour creating a serious safety risk may result in exclusion from an activity or the journey. Any financial consequences will be assessed fairly and in accordance with applicable law.

Please do not share another participant's personal story or photograph them without permission.

11. Photography & personal information

Permission to use identifiable photographs, recordings or testimonials for publicity will be requested separately. Booking does not constitute marketing consent.

Booking acknowledgement

By booking, you confirm that you have received and read these terms, the final itinerary, the price and service details, and any legally required pre-contractual information.
